

Cuban Historical Patterns and Bureaucratic Planning Crisis from 1975 onwards

By Roberto Unger

I. Cuban Historical Patterns

In fact Cuba has won Communist party power and is a democratic experience for the liberal crowds and even the politics of Cuban living people. Cuba then is in fact the process of then deepening history in its culture from 1960 – 70 which then was patterns of historical life, Cuban old style architecture, a future in second hand technology and forms of Spanish orchards which then forms cheap department stores and is free-style clothing arguments from Che who in turn is living in Bolivia because he is against the foquismo praxis and is not in fact killed by fascist Bolivians. Long live Che (A letter from Retamar reads this way in the 1965 period)

II. Bureaucratic Planning Crisis – Years after Coca Crises in Bolivia and Mexican pressure which includes counter-revolution in Batista groups in Miami – Cuba can no longer practice the historical liberal line – in fact it is affected by counter-praxis and praxis-inert processes from Latin America – as the Communist party loses across Latin America from 1970 – 1990 in fact

And so Cuba fails when Allende fails.

III. Recent News on Cuba after 1990s, the first time since in fact 2000 when Fidel quits calling Cuba a major failure in state economics

In fact Cuba is now an outmoded topic for the New Left in Europe, but Sirohi is an Althusserian type New Leftist – he thinks it is fundamental we remember Cuba even China and mass line, even Trotsky and Lenin.

His advice is simply for Cuba – revert to 1990s or 1950s – we are organised in mass line again, we are in fact praxis and perhaps theory-praxis unities which then cannot fail. The simple reserved character of Che is wrong and Fidel is wrong on being liberal and democratic in fact – all power to the Soviets.
